Feast of SS. Peter and Paul

29th June 2014

Dear Parishioners,

In St Peter's Square in Rome there are two very prominent statues. One shows St Peter holding a key, the other St Paul holding a sword. The symbolism of the key and the sword say much about the two men whose feast we celebrate today. A key is used to unlock doors or open up places to allow people to enter in. Peter is the one who opens the way which leads to God's kingdom and discloses the treasures of Christ's message. The sword associated with Paul reminds us that he was a soldier. For many years, as an officer in the Roman army, he spent his life persecuting the followers of Christ. He was known to be ruthless and savage in his persecution of those who professed the Christian way of life. However, after his conversion he changed his way of life radically and completely. Paul spent himself in the service of proclaiming the Gospel message, travelling from country to country, writing letters, encouraging the young churches, sometimes reprimanding them and often suffering personal hardship and difficulty. The image of the sword takes on a new significance and in his letters he speaks about fighting the good fight, putting on the armour of Christ and doing battle against the forces of evil.

While both men are honoured as the stalwarts of the Christian faith and are admired for their fidelity and commitment, we might be able to relate to their humanity. Paul was very aware of his own weakness and limitations. In many of his letters he speaks about himself as nothing more than an earthen vessel, but one which contains a great treasure. He was acutely aware of his limitations and often refers to the fact that the things he wants to do are the things he doesn't do and the things he wishes to avoid are the very things he does.

Peter also recognised that he could be impetuous and unreliable. He often challenged Jesus and argued with him. After he had disowned Jesus swearing to God that he didn't even know the man, we are told that he went outside and wept bitterly.

The sheer humanity of these two men, combined with their outstanding fidelity, reminds us that the Church will always be a gathering of sinners trying to be saints. Like Peter and Paul we recognise that we are not always what we should be. On this feast day we pray for something of their spirit: a spirit of courage in the face of hardship; a spirit of fidelity in the face of suffering and a spirit of hope in the face of opposition.

With every blessing,
Colum Curry PP
