Dear Parishioners,

Armagh and Tyrone people are regarded as the best supporters to follow a team to the Athletic Grounds in Armagh, to Healy Park in Omagh and more especially to Clones or Croke Park when the occasion allows. They travel by train, by car or whatever other means are necessary. Some are well organised – they travel early with all arrangements made. Others just make it. Once there, they are all united in hope. Not that they don't enjoy the journey too. There is many a helping hand prior to the great day, a lift to the station, a scouring of the country for tickets in case a friend would be left behind, a hand aboard with the plastic bags as the last train pulls out. A song shortens the journey. Many hopes are strengthened and anxieties halved by being shared. Those who travel early or the night before, are looking out for their own, eager for reunion, trying to reserve a place for somebody close.

Today's feast, the Commemoration of all the Faithful Departed is the day of those who have travelled before us. They have gone by many routes; as parent or priest, as widow or orphan, as nurse or teacher, as rich or poor, as young or old, as seriously ill or by sudden call; some heroes have gone the road of suffering.

They await re-union. Today is the day for the helping hand, the word of encouragement and forgiveness to ensure that there will be nobody missing when we reach our destination.

"Lord God, whose days are without end and whose mercies are beyond counting, keep us mindful that life is short and the hour of death unknown. Let your Spirit guide our days on earth in the ways of holiness and justice that we may serve you in union with the whole Church, sure in faith, strong in hope, perfect in love. And when our earthly journey is ended, lead us rejoicing into your kingdom, where you live forever and ever. Amen"

It is customary at this time of year to fulfil the requirements for Indulgences for the Holy Souls which can be found inside.

With every blessing,
Colum Curry PP
