Dear Parishioners,

This is Good Shepherd Sunday, a day of special prayer for vocations to the work of service in the Church. While we pray for vocations to the priesthood and the religious life, we pray also for vocations to service as deacons and indeed to serve as lay people in the many roles that are open in the modern parish and in the modern world. The command of Jesus forever endures: that as baptised members of his church, we should make God's Good News of hope and salvation and Jesus Christ's message of love and mercy known to all the world.

As the Good Shepherd, Jesus promises to lead us by the sound of his voice as his words guide us to think and say and do what is right and just and good. As the Good Shepherd, He promises to enclose us in the safety of His sheepfold where, by following his voice and his example and teaching, we may live life to the full. It is by hearing and heeding the voice of the Good Shepherd that we are led into the good pastures of right living in this world and eternal life in the next.

The Good Shepherd still seeks people to continue in our time and place the work that he began. We give thanks today for Ireland's magnificent record down through the centuries in bringing forth priests and religious to serve God's people in our own country and in the nations of the world. May their example and service, alongside the voice of the Good Shepherd, inspire people today to respond and offer their lives in the service of God and God's people.

Fr Kevin Donaghy PP

Prayer for Families

We bless your name, O Lord, for sending your own incarnate Son, to become part of a family, so that, as he lived its life, he would experience its worries and its joys. We ask you, Lord, to protect and watch over this family, so that in the strength of your grace its members may enjoy prosperity, possess the priceless gift of your peace, and, as the Church alive in the home, bear witness in this world to your glory. We ask this though Christ our Lord.
Amen.
