Sixth Sunday of the Year

17 February 2019

Dear Parishioners,

We live in a world which praises efficiency, glorifies success and worships power. While all three of these can be good things when used properly, Jesus points to the great truth that there are things which are greater and better. The world we live in leads us to believe that happiness comes from wealth and well-being; and freedom from any kind of pain. Jesus points to the fact that we never have a steady grip on life, since death is a reality that everyone one of us will ultimately face. Jesus is not against our striving for true happiness – but he does warn us against putting our trust in material things because such trust would be misplaced. There is more to life than the things that pass: we are created to share God's joy, and anything that distracts us from that is not good for us.

Jesus invites, us, challenges us, to link in with those who are poor; those who are hungry; those who weep for whatever reason – and so to share in the mission and ministry of Jesus himself. Then when all is said and done we will know the ultimate happiness that Jesus proposes and we will “rejoice when that day comes and dance for joy, for then your reward will be great in heaven”.
